about the artwork

Let's work together to expand and develop the Setouchi Triennale Artwork "Memory of Ship's Hull" "Memory of the Ship's Hull" is a massive three-dimensional artwork (permanently installed since 2013), built around the anchor of a former Japanese naval vessel and the propeller of a Norwegian ship, welded together with iron materials brought by citizens. The iron flattened during the workshop continues to be added with each maintenance session, allowing the work to keep growing.

*about the live musicPiano Live (Scenic Pianist Mami Yamaji)

Set against the backdrop of Uno Port at dusk, this one-night-only sound art performance blends the presence of the sea and ships, the ever-changing scenery, and cinematic piano melodies. Enjoy the performance along with lighting effects and participant-made lanterns.
